

Knows the Facts About Pork Barrel Legislation

Lee Francis Lybarger of the Philadelphia Bar.

LEE FRANCIS LYBARGER knows the facts about Pork Barrel Legislation. He will make the keynote speech of the Chautauqua, and he is prepared to give some startling facts about government expenditures. Mr. Lybarger is a member of the Philadelphia bar. He is a recognized authority on the tariff and is the author of a number of books on economic subjects, among them, "Land, Labor and Wealth."

He knows how to present these big issues interestingly, entertainingly and clearly. He will not attack any one man or any set of men. It's the SYSTEM or the METHOD that he hits, and he says that even congressmen are not ENTIRELY to blame for the plan under which government money is appropriated and spent; that the voters who elect them to office and give them their instructions have a part in Pork Barrel methods.

COMMUNITY INTERESTS is another phase of the Lybarger address and one that will perhaps come a little closer home. There's enough FOOD FOR THOUGHT in this lecture for many a day. Don't miss it—HEAR IT ON Topics of the Home and Household.

Try fastening ribbon bows to fancy aprons by snap fastenings, instead of sewing on after each laundering. It will save much time and work.

Scalloped Tomatoes and Eggs—Into a pint of stewed tomatoes stir a generous cupful of fine bread crumbs, a tablespoon of melted butter and a half teaspoonful of sugar, pepper and salt to taste. Mix thoroughly and turn into a greased pudding dish. Upon the top of this scallop break as many eggs as will lie side by side. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and bits of butter and bake until the eggs are set.

When a person is very, very sick, quantities of flowers are apt to be sent in, and later when the patient is recovering and able to enjoy them as she could not when in a more serious condition, the flowers are usually not so freely contributed. It is in the period of convalescence that one appreciates them as never before.

To avoid the endless trouble with children's shoe-strings when the tips come off, wind the end of the string closely with No. 36 black thread, then sew through repeatedly, and a better tip and one that will not come off is the result. It really pays to cut the metal ends from new strings and treat them this way in the beginning, as these tips look neater and they tuck inside the shoe-tops better.

Cake Making.

All modern recipes call for level measurements. The rounding measure for dry ingredients is too uncertain to use with the uniform liquid measure. Use the same size cup and spoon in measuring all ingredients.

The laborious way of creaming the lard shortening and sugar is not necessary. If the shortening is melted slowly and mixed with the sugar it produces the same results.

When using pure leaf lard for shortening use one-third less than ordinary lard. When butterine is used the result will be the same as with butter if a little less is used than is called for in butter. Too much sugar makes the crust and crumb sticky. Too much shortening makes greasy crust and crumb. Too much egg makes crumb wet and soggy.

Dry, crumbly crust is caused by too much baking powder. Crust of good cake is light golden brown, one-eighth to one-fourth thick and tender.

Proper mixing insures uniform texture.

Hamburg Steak Recipes.

German Hamburg—One pound of steak, one-half loaf of stale bread, which has been soaked in hot water and the water pressed out; two cold boiled potatoes run through the meat chopper, one small minced onion, salt, pepper and two eggs. Mix well together, shape into small round cakes and fry in hot fat.

Mock Turkey—One pound of beef, one-third pound of salt pork and three slices of bread ground together. Season with one-half teaspoon of pepper, one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of poultry dressing, one beaten egg. Mix with one pint of milk and form into a loaf. Bake three hours slowly in a covered dish.

Beef Rolls in Cabbage—One pound of hamburger, one-half pound of salt pork, one cup of bread crumbs, pepper and salt. Shape into small balls. Scald the large leaves of a small cabbage, tie a meat ball securely in each leaf and brown it in hot fat. Chop the rest of the cabbage, put into kettle with meat rolls, top and cover with water. Cook two hours, thicken the gravy and serve.

Italian Hamburg Steak—Cook one cup of macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. In a large saucpan fry two large onions, cut in slices, until brown, add two pounds hamburger steak and cook until light brown. Now add the macaroni, one can of tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste, one can of mushrooms, cooked in butter for five minutes, and one-half cup of grated cheese. Add sufficient water to prevent sticking to the kettle and simmer one-half hour.

Turkish Hamburg Steak—Cook one cup of rice until tender. Cook one cup of lentils until tender. The lentils should be soaked overnight. Fry two onions, cut in slices, add one pound of hamburger steak and cook until brown, add lentils, rice, pepper, salt and one can of tomatoes. Add water to prevent scorching and simmer one-half hour. The above is very good if slices of bacon are fried crisp, the onions and steak cooked in the fat and the bacon used as a garnish. Also make it without the steak, using more bacon. Dorothy Dexter.

ORPET FOUND NOT GUILTY

Acquitted of Murder of Marion Lambert at Waukegan, Ill.

ACCUSED SMILES AT THE VERDICT

Jury Returns Verdict After Five Hours' Deliberation

Waukegan, Ill., July 17.—William H. Orpet, the University of Wisconsin student charged with murdering Marion Lambert, a high school girl, and his former sweetheart, was found not guilty by a jury in Judge Donnelly's court Saturday after five hours' deliberation.

As the jury trying Orpet retired to consider its verdict, it carried into the jury room instructions from the court which attorneys for the defense believed precluded any verdict other than acquittal.

"Nothing short of proof so clear and convincing as to exclude any reasonable hypothesis of innocence will satisfy a conviction, and without such proof the jury must find him not guilty," Judge Donnelly declared. "A mere possibility is not sufficient."

The court, however, added that the jury must consider the evidence as a whole, and that if they firmly believed, despite contradictory evidence, that Orpet gave Marion Lambert cyanide of potassium, whether he or she brought it to Helen's woods, they should find him guilty of murder.

"But if you believe that the evidence has shown Marion had the same opportunity of taking the poison herself that Orpet had of giving it to her, your verdict should be not guilty."

At 7 p. m., came word that a verdict had been reached. Probably 50 persons were still waiting for it. Orpet was sent for in his cell and Judge Donnelly was still at the courthouse. Three ballots were taken. The first two stood 11 to 1 for acquittal. Orpet was silent through excess of emotion. He was barely able to return the handclaps of his attorneys. He made his way to the jurors and shook their hands one by one, smiling widely, but saying nothing.

Mrs. Orpet received the verdict as if it were a mere matter of routine. She noted that a photographer was trying to snap a picture of her son and herself and warned him, meanwhile shielding her own face with a newspaper. The defendant, his father and mother, his brother and several friends hurried into the witness room, where their privacy was safeguarded by a bailiff. Half an hour later they emerged and made their way down the back stairs and to the jail.

Orpet's few belongings in his cell were already packed. He had recovered his self-possession by this time and thanked Sheriff Griffin for making his four months' stay in jail as comfortable as possible. The party was then driven home in the automobile of one of Orpet's lawyers. The important events of the trial all occurred on the 15th. The selection of the jury began on May 15, the taking of testimony was begun on June 15, and acquittal came on July 15.

LEAPS FROM 10TH STORY.

Paul Smith of Chalmers Co. Was in State of Nervous Collapse.

New York, July 17.—Paul Smith, 32, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chalmers Motor company of Detroit, Mich., leaped from the window of his room on the 10th floor of the Hotel Biltmore Saturday and was crushed to death in the street below. His physician, wife and friends attributed his act to a complete nervous and mental collapse following the successful completion of a business deal in New York City said to have involved $6,000,000.

Mr. Smith came to New York Monday, asserting that he did not think he ever could recover. He sent a telegram Friday to his wife urging her to join him here. She arrived Saturday morning and when she had turned her back for a moment to arrange breakfast, which had been served in their rooms, Mr. Smith disappeared through the window.

Mr. Smith was born in Vermont. He was graduated from the University of Illinois and practiced medicine a short time. He once was a cowboy and worked later in the stock yards at Kansas City. He started in the automobile industry as a factory hand in Detroit. He was connected with the Studebaker, Lozier, Goodyear and Metzger companies before going with the Chalmers concern two years ago. He is said to have disposed of $22,000,000 worth of automobiles in one auction sale.

WHAT YOUR NERVES NEED

Whatever medication, whatever renewed strength and vigor can be imparted to the nerves must reach them through the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a nerve tonic but they act on the nerves through the blood, enabling the blood to carry to the nerves the elements needed to build them up. Neuralgia, sciatica, sick headache and a number of more severe nervous troubles are properly treated by building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are often entirely corrected in this way.

If you are nervous you can help yourself by refusing to worry, by taking proper rest, sleep and vacations, by avoiding excesses and by taking out-of-door exercise. For medicine take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic.

Sufferers from nervous disorders who have been taking treatment without benefit should investigate the tonic method. Write today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System." It will be sent free on request.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

SENATE NAVAL DEBATE IS ON

But National House Gives Up Struggle Because of Heat

SURPRISE AT HAY NOMINATION

Representative is Well Equipped for Claims Bench

Washington, July 17.—Activity in official circles here has been aimed chiefly at trying to keep cool. With the summer season at its very height and the heat the most oppressive of the season, government men here have accomplished very little. As usual, it was almost dead non at the White House offices Saturday. The president, however, gave Congress a little surprise in sending to the capitol the nomination of Representative James Hay to be judge of the court of claims. This is another instance where the president shows his consideration for members of the national House by naming one to a desirable judicial position. Mr. Hay is an old timer in the House, where he has served for several years as chairman of the important military affairs committee. His long experience in the public service equips him well for this judgeship, which is concerned largely with examining and passing upon claims against the federal government.

The House remained in session only an hour, discussing the corrupt practices act, but the Senate braved the heat with a long session over the naval appropriations bill, some provisions of which he attacked as extravagant and unbusinesslike. Several days will probably be required yet to complete the bill. A lively debate is expected over the new construction program.

The sub-committee of the finance committee are joggling along with their assignments on the revenue bill but it is felt there is no particular hurry, as the Senate needs time in which to dispose of pending appropriation bills.

The state department is addressing itself to adjusting the Mexican difficulties. Assurances abound on every side that a speedy arrangement will be made, but the department none the less appears to be making slow progress.

CLEAN BILL FOR SUBMARINE.

Washington Holds That Deutschland Is Not Potentially a War Vessel.

Washington, July 17.—The state department Saturday formally ruled that the German submarine Deutschland is a merchant vessel and entitled to treatment as such. In announcing the ruling, Acting Secretary Polk said it was not to be taken as a precedent and that any similar cases arising in the future would be dealt with on their own merits. "In view of the facts in this particular case," said Mr. Polk, "there is no reason why the Deutschland should be considered a war vessel."

OSBORNE BACK.

Sing Sing in Flags and Bunting to Greet Returning Warden.

Ossining, N. Y., July 17.—All the prison buildings at Sing Sing were decorated with American flags and green and white bunting, the colors of the Mutual Welfare league, in anticipation of the return yesterday of Thomas Mott Osborne as warden.

Since Mr. Osborne relinquished the wardenship six months ago to defend himself against charges contained in indictments, the inmates of Sing Sing have been looking forward to this event. Besides a parade led by the prison band, the program included floats from every shop, some of them representing the aims and aspirations of the Mutual Welfare league founded by Mr. Osborne and others burlusqueing the efforts of those who were responsible for the charges against Mr. Osborne, of which he now has been cleared.

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill.—"While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking my medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the Insane Hospital."—Mrs. E. SHELDON, 5657 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

War Fever in South America.

War fever has broken out in South America. Land is, as usual, the bone of contention. Peru and Venezuela are reported to be in a secret alliance against Colombia and Ecuador to seize the debated territory.

Between a patch of bright light and a patch of deep darkness is a shadowy region known as the penumbra. The boundaries of South American states include much territory which is penumbra, and it is this which causes the trouble, and which always has caused such international quarrels as the South American republic have had since they wrested their independence from Spain. When they have fought they have generally fought over uncertain line fences, and, to do them justice, these fights have been creditably infrequent in comparison with those of more "civilized" European states.

A study of the histories of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Bolivia, Peru, Uruguay and the other South American countries shows that internal revolution has been the rule and that international strife has been the exception. Two notable exceptions were the war between Argentina and Brazil over Uruguay in 1829, and the clash of Chile with Peru and Bolivia in 1879.

Of late, the South American revolutions have revolved less giddily, due no doubt, in large part to the governmental stability required by investors of foreign capital.

Boundary disputes of all causes are the ones which nations should take to court. They are peculiarly of a nature which call for arbitration. And an additional reason now appears for our not having taken hasty measures against Mexico, thus making an enemy also of Latin America. The country which would propose mediation for others must set the example. If Latin America is wise, this difficulty over fences will prove more bark than bite.—Boston Globe.

A sprinkling of hops in the brine when bacon and hams are put in pickle adds greatly to the flavor of both, and enables them to be kept an indefinite period.

One Million Jobs in America Closed to Drinkers.

In the July American Magazine Dr. Edwin F. Bowers says: "There are more than 1,000,000 jobs in America closed to the man who drinks alcoholic liquors. This means that not only the employes shall not drink while on duty, but that he shall keep clear of all public drinking places while off duty. Leaders in this excommunication of John Barleycorn are the American railroads, which generally have adopted 'Rule G,' the mightiest blow yet delivered at alcohol in industry. But the railroads are not standing alone. Other great industries have come to see that alcohol makes only for accidents, inefficiency and waste. Workmen's compensation laws in many states have helped to open men's eyes, and business common sense is keeping them open."

Paint can't be Told by Looks

Paint of the sham variety was never known to produce permanently satisfactory work.

It may pass muster for a while, but looks alone cannot stand up against persistent, ravaging attacks of rain and shine. Looks must be backed up by weather-resistance as it is in paint made from and pure linseed oil. Protects against decay and gives good looks at minimum cost. Just the thing, too, for inside walls and woodwork.

Our white lead can be had at all first-class paint dealers.

PIMPLES COVERED BABY'S HEAD

Became One Scale Which Was Awful to Look At. Burning and Itching All the Time. Began on Body.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Baby was five days old when I first noticed that her head was covered with red pimples. The hair of her head became one scale which was awful to look at. She cried and lay awake trying to get at it, it was burning and itching so all the time. After a while it began to break out on her body. My baby was an awful looking sight."

"Baby was a sufferer for six weeks before I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and her body and head were delivered from scales. In a few days my baby was well all over." (Signed) Mrs. R. E. Blaglow, R. F. D. No. 2, Shelburne Harbor, Vt., July 1, 1915.
